Graduate nursing programs built to meet the challenges of tomorrow.

When Lydia Moss Bradley founded the university that bears her name, she envisioned an institution that balanced the liberal arts and sciences with professional training. Well-rounded students who not only get ahead, but lead the way forward.

This mission is at the core of our nursing program, which has set the standard of excellence for more than 60 years. We've been successful because we put our students first, equipping them with the tools to become the next generation of health care leaders, and helping them find future-focused solutions to challenges our communities face.

When you choose Bradley, you can benefit from:

Dedicated faculty members who have years of professional experience in the health care field. Mentors who will be there for you not only beyond office hours, but beyond graduation.

- Small class sizes — varying from 6 to 25 — and the personalized support to help you thrive.
- A collaborative environment where you can learn from and alongside like-minded professionals who share your vision for a better health care system.
- Learning beyond the classroom, where you can hone your skills through supervised clinical experiences at a facility of your choice.

Today, our graduates work as advanced practice nurses and leaders in clinical and nonclinical settings across the country. They're transforming health care delivery in the 21st century — and so can you.

Online Master of Science in Nursing

Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner

PATHS OF ENTRY:

- ADN/diploma
- BSN
- Non-nursing bachelor's degree

Help lead the way forward in patient care.

You became a nurse because you're committed to helping people. Now you're ready to take on a new role where you can have an even greater impact. As an AGACNP, you'll provide compassionate care to patients when they need you most. By earning this degree, you'll gain skills to diagnose and treat acutely ill or injured patients in a variety of settings, including intensive care units, emergency departments, long-term acute care facilities, and specialty clinics.

Program outcomes:

Our 100% online, CCNE-accredited adult-gerontology acute care nurse practitioner program was built to help transform your career. By completing the program, you can:

- Gain a greater understanding of the issues impacting patients experiencing acute illnesses or conditions.
- Enhance your ability to provide advanced acute care to diverse populations including adolescents, young adults, middle-aged patients, and the elderly.
- Develop your skills in areas such as health assessment, disease prevention, pathophysiology, and pharmacology.
- Qualify for roles where you can take on additional responsibility and work with greater autonomy.
- Prepare for the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner Board Certification (AGACNP-BC) exam or the American Association of Critical-Care Nurses (AACN) ACNPC-AG exam.

Admission Requirements

To be eligible for Bradley's online ADN/diploma or BSN to MSN-AGACNP program, you must meet the following qualifications:

- ADN, diploma or BSN from a regionally accredited college or university and an NLNAC-, ACEN-, or CCNE-accredited nursing program. If you have an ADN, diploma or non-nursing bachelor's degree you must complete NUR 300, 303, 404, and 407.
- Proof of a current RN license

GPA requirements:

- You may be admitted unconditionally if you've achieved at least a 3.0 GPA on a 4.0 scale in the last 60 semester hours of undergraduate coursework.
- You must have completed a minimum of 12 graduate credit hours for the graduate GPA to be considered for admission.

You must also submit the following:

- Completed online application
- Nonrefundable $40 application fee
- Official transcripts of academic credentials
- One admission essay
- Two letters of recommendation
- Résumé

Online Doctor of Nursing Practice

Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner

Path of entry:
→ BSN

Put your future forward by earning a doctorate in psychiatric-mental health.

The shortage of mental health providers is attributed to a variety of factors, including greater access to care, the ongoing pandemic, retiring professionals, and too few graduates filling open practitioner roles. At the same time, there's a growing demand for vital mental health services. This means there's a tremendous opportunity for nursing leaders who can help make a new model for patient care — one that makes it easier for people to receive the critical services they need.

Program Outcomes

Earning your online doctorate from Bradley University prepares you to practice as a psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner and serve in leadership roles across health care — in less than four years. Prepare for advanced leadership roles in administration, teaching, research, and patient care.
